

MEDICAL SCIENCE LIAISON-ONCOLOGY (FR/NL) Field-based Belgium

Arsanne Consulting is a selection and recruitment company specialised in the healthcare industry.

Arsanne Consulting has a job opening for a MEDICAL SCIENCE LIAISON within the medical department of an international pharmaceutical company.

Position overview

The Medical Science Liaison (MSL) will provide scientific support to customers in the field in the BeLux region.

The job involves interactions and coordinating with the medical team ,Brand Team and various support functions ( Marketing, Regulatory,).

An important part of the role will focus on the building of strong relationships with Health care Professionals (HCPs) providing them with high level of scientific information. It will involve the participation to local and international meetings and congresses. In coordination with the Medical Advisor, the MSL will also be responsible for the implementation and monitoring of the medical action plan, which includes clinical studies, investigators studies and medical educational projects.

Job responsibilities

- Establishes productive, professional relationships with Health Care Professionals ( HCPs)
- Build his/her own medical action plan
- Apply medical & scientific (non-promotional) expertise on the company's products and related therapy areas to educate (HCPs)
- Guide HCPs on the optimal use of the company's products, including unlicensed uses when requested
- Shares emerging data with HCPs, discussing all aspects of the data in a reactive, scientific, objective and balanced way
- Provides the company with an understanding of the local medical community
- Remains abreast of latest scientific knowledge and developments
- Keeps updated with all clinical practice trends and real perceived gaps in current scientific knowledge and medical treatment
- Represents the company by participating in relevant congresses, symposia & other meetings
- Identifies potential speakers & train speakers on new data when appropriate
- Makes clinical and scientific presentations to healthcare professionals

- Works in close collaboration with Medical Advisor on strategic projects as defined in the medical action plan
- Works in close collaboration with Sales, marketing & medical for delivering scientific expertise towards HCPs and internally
- Ensures 100% compliance with internal medical SOPs

Organizational Alignment

- Is part of the medical department
- Reports to the Medical Advisor
- Interacts with Brand Team

Required qualifications

- Fluent in French & Dutch ( with English)
- Strong scientific background (Master, PhD or MD in a relevant discipline ( Biology, Pharmacy...))
- Experience in a similar role or experience in interacting with physicians
- Knowledge in the field of oncology is an asset
- Knowledge of IT skills
- Knowledge of medical/pharmaceutical environment, including opinion leaders
- Strong communication and presentation skills
- Multi-tasking and able to work autonomously
- Able to set priorities
- Self-motivated & flexible